when you want to make a lasting impression, there really is only one solution...

Whether contemporary or traditional, abstract or brand related, the art you display is there for a reason. It is a statement about your company. The one thing you don't want is to end up with sagging, dirty canvasses that actually detract from the image you are trying to portray. Digiglass provides the solution and much more – high definition UV printing onto solid box construction with canvas effect over laminate provides a lasting finish that can be regularly cleaned and never sags.
